"There are worse crimes than burning books. One of them is not reading them." — Ray Bradbury

Dear Parents and Carers,

Well, I have to say this week wasn't quite the week I was expecting. I am very proud of our fantastic children who have been a credit to us as a school and to you as parents and carers. We expect the Ofsted report to be released later in January.

On Wednesday, we welcomed the author Clive Pig. The giggles and laughter from the children were a delight to see. His storytelling was a true pleasure to welcome into school and such an inspirational visit for them all.

We also welcomed volunteers from Open the Book for their final visit of this year with a super tale of the Christmas story. We really do appreciate them all coming in regularly - thank you! This led to us all being very excited and looking forward to our infant nativity at school and junior concert at Carnglaze next week. The children have been singing their hearts out and we can't wait to share this with you. Don't forget to get your tickets!

Best wishes. Mrs Pipe, Headteacher

Save the Children CHRIST-MAS

Christmas Jumper Day

A lovely array of jumpers today! We raised £35 for Save the Children—Thank you

PTFA Christmas Fair

The PTFA would still be grateful for raffle prizes, gift bags and small gifts for the Xmas Fair. Please drop them in to the office. The Fair is on Monday 18th December. Don't forget to complete the form for your child's visit to Santa (£2 per child) - forms available from the office. Children can come in to school in festive clothing and again on Tuesday, they can come in to school in their party clothes ready for the morning parties!

Xmas Performances

Tickets are still available for the Infant's performance of 'The Twinkly Nativity' and the Juniors concert at Carnglaze Caverns. Pop in to the school office if you haven't booked yours yet.

Star Learner

The star learners this week come from Year 3. Valency Class have been very busy with their artwork! They joined the whole school in making giant baubles using balloons and papier-mache, and Christmas shadow boxes by tracing and cutting out Christmas shapes. They had loads of fun.

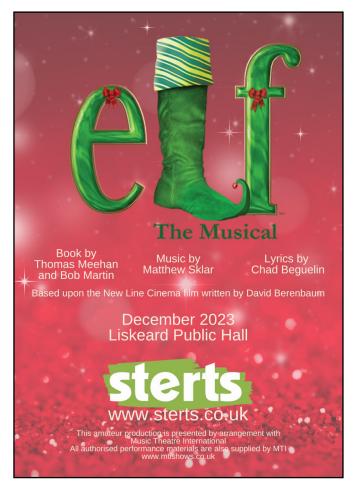

They have also been looking at abstract landscape which inspired them to use a range of techniques to create the art pieces. One method was to use collage by using various colours and textures in creating a river scene. To make their work abstract, they used an uncommon colour palette eg pink for water and blue for trees! Very effective as you can see below. Well done to our Y3 artists!
